GOING GOLD AS A TEAM

Every spring, Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles honors an admirable group of girls who have worked hard to earn the Girl Scout Gold Award, the highest achievement in Girl Scouting. To earn it, girls lead individual projects that solve or build awareness of a community problem—not only in the short term, but for years to come. It's a lot of work, but, as many Gold Awardees can attest, it is totally attainable and incredibly rewarding.

Ambassador Girl Scout Troop 6235 from San Pedro found a great way to achieve their Gold Award ambitions: Develop a support system. Thirteen members of the troop all worked simultaneously on going Gold. Even though all of their projects were completely unique, it was helpful to have their sister Girl Scouts—many who had been in the same troop since first grade!—to talk to about challenges and successes. Collectively, the girls logged close to 1,400 hours dedicated to making differences in San Pedro and beyond through projects focused on bully prevention, literacy, science education, and so much more. Way to go, girls!

HEY THERE, EARLY BIRD!

Early Bird membership renewal begins April 1! Early Bird renewal gives current Girl Scouts and troops the opportunity to re-register early for the upcoming Girl Scout Year (October 2014 through September 2015) before the fall rush! Look for the Early Bird Registration button at girlscoutsla.org for details.

LAST CHANCE TO JOIN US AT THE ANNUAL MEETING & VOLUNTEER RECOGNITION CEREMONY

Girl Scout members ages 14 and up—let your voice be heard and applaud outstanding volunteers at the 2014 Annual Meeting and Volunteer Recognition Ceremony (AMVR), Saturday, April 5, at the Pacific Palms Hotel & Conference Center. Vote for the new Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles board of directors slate as well as the National Girl Scout Council delegates.

Afterward, we'll award and honor all of our amazing volunteers nominated by their peers at the volunteer recognition ceremony. Hosted by KTLA5's Lynette Romero (a former Girl Scout!), the ceremony will include a delicious lunch, mingling, and lots of celebrating. Cost is $30. Deadline to register is March 27. Register online at girlscoutsla.org.

GIRL SCOUT VOLUNTEER APPRECIATION DAY

April 22 is Girl Scout Volunteer Appreciation Day! Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles is thankful for the more than 20,000 wonderful volunteers who serve as the leaders behind our girl leaders! Surprise your troop leader or other Girl Scout volunteer with a big thank-you on Volunteer Appreciation Day! Stop by one of our Girl Scout shops (you can even shop online at girlscoutsla.org) to find the perfect gift. Or, check out Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles' Pinterest page for some cool crafty ideas: pinterest.com/girlscoutsla.

GIRL SCOUT COOKIES FUND COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENTS

Talk about paying it forward: Cadette Troop 13481 from Pasadena is using its 2014 cookie funds toward building a sustainable, organic vegetable garden for the Ronald McDonald House of Pasadena. They are doing this in conjunction with the fourth grade Brownie troop at Chandler School in Pasadena so that it will be a Girl Scout legacy passed on from troop to troop at the school for years to come.

As a tradition since Brownies, these girls always set aside a portion of their cookie funds to give back to the community. Does Troop 13481's project spark any ideas for ways you can use cookie funds to Take Action and better your neighborhood?

FEED YOUR NEIGHBOR SERVICE SATURDAY

A 2013 nationwide food insecurity study found that Los Angeles County has the most hungry families in the nation with 643,640 children struggling to eat on a daily basis. Help lower this number by joining Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles' council-wide community service project, Feed Your Neighbor. You'll earn the Feed Your Neighbor patch and complete fun activities that weave in the three keys of the Girl Scout Leadership Experience: Discover, Connect, and Take Action. The program culminates on Saturday, April 12, with a one-day food drive across L.A. County, including Ralphs/Food 4 Less stores, and Girl Scout day of service at the Los Angeles Regional Food Bank. Food will be donated to the LA Food Bank and their affiliates. Visit girlscoutsla.org and click on the Feed Your Neighbor button for details.

FAMILY FIT FAIR

Girl Scouts and their families are invited to participate in Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles' Family Fit Fair, at Cal State University Long Beach. Sponsored by Ralphs/Food 4 Less, this event is set for Spring 2014. Run the fitness challenge and stay for the Fit Fair and enjoy troop-led activities, visit health and fitness exhibitors, get your rhythm going at the center stage, and much more. Plus, you'll get a shirt and patch. Visit the program calendar at girlscoutsla.org for more information.
