

Can you say “seaweed” in Dolphin?

Renowned marine biologist Dr. Denise Herzing, a “veritable Jane Goodall of the sea” (National Geographic), 2008 Guggenheim Fellow and Research Director/Founder of the Wild Dolphin Project, will present her groundbreaking research on dolphin communication in the wild.

April 6 at 7:00 PM
Beverly Vista School Theater
200 S. Elm Drive, Beverly Hills
Free admission and parking

See wilddolphinproject.org for more information on Dr. Herzing and her research.

Note: “Polymer Pat” will entertain elementary age children with his awesome science experiments while older students and adults enjoy the lecture.