It's not just about cars.

It's also about helping people enrich the quality of life in their communities. That's why we're proud to support a wide range of organizations that are opening doors, creating opportunities and conducting research to find cures for the illnesses so many of our loved ones face. Together, we can make a difference.

JOIN. VOLUNTEER. RECONNECT. → WWW.GIRLSCOUTSLA.ORG

Dear Friends & Champions of Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles,

The ToGetHerThere Luncheon is a testament to the power of girls and women—when we get together, we can change the world. And we are thrilled to celebrate the leadership of some truly remarkable women who were shaped by their Girl Scout experiences, as well as honor our 100 Emerging Leaders—exemplary Girl Scouts who are poised to be tomorrow's decision makers. These are the leaders our world truly needs.

Today, we have the opportunity to reflect upon the importance of empowering girls to change the world for the better. As leaders ourselves, we know it takes courage and support to lead effectively, and we've seen the difference we can make when we lead boldly. Studies show that companies with more female executives consistently outperform their industry peers. So, what is holding us back?

Let's start by addressing the barriers of today's girls. In a state where we lead the way in so many industries through innovation and social change, California ranks poorly in its support of tomorrow's female leaders. California ranks 29th out of 50 states when it comes to girls' well-being, which includes health and safety, economic well-being, education, and wellness.

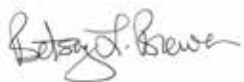

However, our event today proves that data is not destiny. At Girl Scouts, we know girls can lead, because we have seen it. Girl Scouts gives girls the unique experiences they need to make a difference—for themselves, their community, and the world. In fact, women who were Girl Scouts are more likely to obtain college degrees, vote regularly, earn more money, and have a higher perception of self.

We have a responsibility to help each girl reach her full potential and ultimately a successful future—one where she will stand out, stand up, and stand tall. Society needs girls to succeed, and girls need champions. We can't transform American leadership in a year, but we can create the momentum for change. Right here, right now. Together, we can get her there.

Warmly,

Lise L. Luttgens

CHRISTINE DEVINE

Anchor
KTTV 11 Los Angeles

Girl Scout alumnae Christine Devine is a veteran television news anchor/reporter at KTTV in Los Angeles. She co-anchors Studio 11 LA and the FOX 11 News at 10 p.m. weeknights. She is the recipient of 16 Emmys, including the prestigious Governors Award, from the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

In addition to the nightly broadcast, she is also the host of "Wednesday's Child," a weekly segment focusing on child adoption that has aired on FOX 11 since 1995, helping more than 1,000 children from foster care find forever families. Empowering youth and championing for foster children is a passion of hers. Christine has authored an autobiography Finding a Forever Family, A News

Anchor's Notebook, and has also written articles for Fostering Families magazine. She has been honored by the Child Welfare League of America and the Congressional Coalition on Adoption Institute as an "Angel in Adoption," and received the Anna Quindlen Award for philanthropy journalism from the Society of Professional Journalists.

In 2012, she was named by Los Angeles Magazine as one of the "50 Women Changing L.A." She was awarded a Gracie Allen Award from AWRT-American Women in Radio and Television for a special on breast cancer and the Avon Walk, another Gracie for a series entitled Fertility Over 40, and was honored before the L.A. City Council, L.A. County Board of Supervisors, the L.A. Police Department, and L.A. County Sheriff's Department.

A proud Sun Devil graduate from Arizona State University, Christine was inducted into the Hall of Fame at the Walter Cronkite School of Broadcast Journalism. Christine was Valedictorian of her high school and voted "Most Likely to Succeed." She attended ASU on a Leadership Scholarship and Medallion of Merit.

SPECIAL GUEST

ANNA MARIA CHÁVEZ

Chief Executive Officer
Girl Scouts of the USA

Anna Maria Chávez began her career journey in the very same Movement she now leads: Girl Scouts. A lifetime member of Girl Scouts of the USA (GSUSA) and an award-winning community leader, Anna developed the leadership skills that would propel her to the office of the chief executive of GSUSA while growing up as a Girl Scout in Eloy, Arizona.

Her experiences in Girl Scouting lit a passion for public service and social engagement that have defined her career. Anna's insight and desire to leave the world a better place led her from her hometown to Yale University, where she earned a bachelor's degree in American history before pursuing a juris doctorate from the James E.

Rogers College of Law at the University of Arizona. She is admitted to the Bar for the U.S. District Court for the District of Arizona, the Arizona Supreme Court, and U.S. Supreme Court.

Anna's desire to serve eventually brought her to Washington, D.C., where she held numerous posts in President Clinton's administration. She later returned to her home state of Arizona to serve the first of two female governors as deputy chief of staff for urban relations and community development under then-Governor Janet Napolitano.

Looking for opportunities to work with youth and inspire a new generation of female leaders, Anna returned to the Girl Scout Movement in 2009, serving as chief executive officer of Girl Scouts of Southwest Texas. Her success there earned her the respect and recognition of GSUSA's National Board, who appointed her CEO of Girl Scouts of the USA in 2011.

Lauded for her leadership, Ms. Chávez received the 2013 Law College Association Award from her law school alma mater, the University of Arizona, and has been recognized as one of the 100 Women Leaders in STEM by STEM Connector. She is the recipient of the 2013 Excellence in Community Service award from the Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund, as well as the 2013 Graciela Olivarez La Raza Award from the National Council of La Raza. In 2014, she was named number 22 by Fast Company in their annual list of the most creative people in business. In addition, the Arizona National Guard presented Anna with the Adjutant General's Medal and the Diversity Champion Leadership Award.

JULIE HAMP

Group Vice President & Chief Communications Officer, Toyota Motor North America

Julie Hamp is chief communications officer for Toyota Motor North America (TMA). She is responsible for marketing, product and brand communications for the Toyota, Lexus, and Scion brands; corporate reputation; stakeholder engagement; investor relations and sales communications; manufacturing communications; and corporate advertising.

She leads the company's communications and engagement efforts at a time when Toyota is reporting record sales, launching an unprecedented number of new vehicles and investing more than $1.5 billion in U.S. products and operations. She was recently honored for her role as an auto industry trailblazer at the 2014 Annual Women and Power Feminist Press Gala.

Prior to joining Toyota, Hamp was chief communications officer and senior vice president, communications and consumer relations for PepsiCo. In this role, Hamp was responsible for global media relations; brand building and consumer engagement; reputation management; executive communications; consumer relations; global talent development; crisis communication and issues management; and sustainability communications.

Before joining PepsiCo, Hamp was vice president, communications for General Motors' European region in Zurich. Hamp was responsible for media relations, brand publicity and corporate communications for Saab, Opel, Vauxhall and Chevrolet. She held a number of positions during her tenure at GM including general director of communications for the Latin America, Africa and Middle East Region; general director for sales, service and marketing communications in North America; and vice president of communications for Saturn.

A native of Queens, NY, Hamp holds a B.S. in communications from Ferris State University in Big Rapids, MI, and her post-graduate studies include participation in the GM-Harvard Business School's Executive Development Program with an emphasis on Asian studies. She currently represents Toyota on the board of the Ad Council and is an accredited member of the Public Relations Society of America and the Arthur W. Page Society. # GIRL SCOUTS OF GREATER LOS ANGELES EMERGING LEADERS

A 2014 Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles Emerging Leader represents the best and brightest of today's youth and tomorrow's leaders. These young women—through their extraordinary accomplishments, demonstration of high leadership potential, and dedication to the values of Girl Scouting, community service, and personal development—have each earned this esteemed honor and recognition as future leaders and the promise of tomorrow.

One third of the 2014 Emerging Leaders have already achieved the highest and most prestigious award in Girl Scouting—the Girl Scout Gold Award—and the remaining are currently in process of undertaking or completing the massive community service project that fulfills the final requirement to earn the Gold Award.

In addition to their many accolades in Girl Scouting and their service to their communities, these young women are honor students, champion athletes, and dynamic youth advocates.

Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles is proud to celebrate and recognize these 100 Girl Scouts as tomorrow's leaders. They are our future business leaders, scientists, advocates, educators, doctors, legislators, engineers, artists, and more who will lead our world. By discovering, connecting, and taking action, these inspiring young women are defining what it means to be a leader in today's global society.

Our mission:

to build girls of courage, confidence, and character, who make the world a better place.

Who we are

Girl Scouts of the USA (GSUSA), founded in 1912, is the world's largest organization dedicated to girls.

Nationally, there are 3.2 million Girl Scouts—2.3 million girl members and 880,000 adult members working primarily as volunteers.

Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles (GSGLA), in partnership with more than 20,000 volunteers, serves more than 40,000 girls, grades K-12, throughout the diverse communities of Los Angeles County and parts of Kern, San Bernardino and Ventura counties.

GSGLA operates 7 service centers, 13 program centers, 4 camps, and our headquarters in downtown Los Angeles.

What we do

Girl Scouts offers girls and young women the world's premier personal growth and leadership development experience.

Programs and girl-led community service opportunities engage girls in discovering themselves, connecting with others, and taking action to make the world better.

Girl Scout membership levels

Life skills are a main ingredient in every Girl Scout cookie.

When a Girl Scout sells you cookies, she's doing more than just handing you a box. She's creating a plan, interacting with customers, and working as part of a team. Selling cookies teaches goal setting, decision making, money management, people skills, and business ethics—skills essential to leadership, to success, and to life. Girl Scouts learn there are no limits. They can do anything. Be anything. This is what a girl can do.

GSGLA Signature Events

Volunteer Recognition Ceremony April 18, 2015

Girl Scouts exist for girls, but it exists because of volunteers. By giving their time and sharing their skills with Girl Scouts, volunteers make it possible for girls to become girls of courage, confidence, and character. Nearly 500 guests attend the annual GSGLA Volunteer Recognition Ceremony to pay tribute to our extraordinary volunteers, who give service beyond measure to our Girl Scouts and our organization.

Gold Award Ceremony June 6, 2015

The Girl Scout Gold Award is the highest award a Girl Scout can earn. It recognizes the hard work of Girl Scout Seniors and Ambassadors who demonstrate leadership that has lasting effects in the community through a large-scale service project. The GSGLA Gold Award Ceremony welcomes more than 750 guests to recognize this amazing accomplishment that solidifies the leadership skills, organizational skills, and sense of community that set the foundation for a lifetime of active citizenship.

Family Fit Fair Summer 2015

Knowing that girls sometimes struggle with poor body image and low self-esteem, Girl Scouts offers innovative programs that instill positive health choices and encourage physical and emotional strength. Our annual Family Fit Fair provides a fun opportunity for girls and their families and friends to enjoy fitness together. Featuring a 5K challenge course and 2K Tot Trot, the event celebrates healthy living at the culminating fit fair, which includes cardio workout sessions, nutritional education, and games that support an overall healthy lifestyle.

ToGetHerThere Luncheon December 2015

ToGetHerThere is the largest, boldest advocacy and fundraising campaign dedicated to girls' leadership in history. This multiyear, multipronged effort aims to break down the societal barriers that hinder girls from leading and achieving success. More than 800 of the most accomplished and influential women and men in Los Angeles gather to celebrate female leadership and to inspire GSGLA's Emerging Leader Girl Scouts who are poised to be the leaders of tomorrow.

Westfield continues our support of Girl Scouts

Still Earning Badges

It takes a special person to be a true leader. One who embraces courage, exudes confidence and demonstrates great character. It's how young Girl Scouts begin earning their badges, which represent the critical stepping stones toward lifelong leadership. And it's how Julie Hamp began—and continues on—her own successful journey.

Today, we salute Julie's exemplary compassion and strength. Her inherent badge in leadership serves as an inspiration for our young women leaders of tomorrow.

Rebecca Victoria

You have been a true activist since the first time you asked about that lone seagull at the market parking lot. From then on you vowed to help all the little animals. You remained true to your cause all the way through eighth grade when you earned your Silver Award making toys for the local shelter. You and your friends made so many, you were able to share some with the animal clinic where you had been volunteering at since second grade. Then in ninth grade you discovered other "girl causes" that made you so concerned about all girls in the world. This has been your focus for the past two years. Girl Scouts along with others have helped you evolve into the true activist of human rights that you are today. Learning that not all girls have had the same opportunities in education and family life that you have is what opened your eyes to the troubles of our world. You are just beginning. I know you will take this drive on the long journey ahead.

Building a better

Serving communities.
Changing lives.
What matters to you
matters to us.

At EY we're proud to sponsor the Girl Scouts of Greater LA's ToGetHerThere Luncheon and congratulate the 100 Emerging Leader Girl Scouts. It's one of the ways we're helping to make our community a better place to work and live. A better and brighter future starts with all of us.
