

What's Your Recipe for Success?

Win a Chance to Represent GSGLA for National Girl Scout Cookie Weekend, Feb. 7–8!

Hey girls! Are you a creative #cookieboss? Tell us your recipe for success and you could win a chance to be a GSGLA reporter for National Girl Scout Cookie Weekend, Feb. 8-9, and be a featured cookie spokesperson at the GSGLA National Cookie Weekend event on Saturday, Feb. 8. The National Cookie Weekend event is a special cookie party happening at Westfield Santa Anita Mall in Arcadia. There will be games and fun, and we will share the most creative recipe submissions! (Stay tuned for more event details!)

How the contest works: Write an actual recipe for how to succeed as a cookie business champ. You can use the original Girl Scout Cookie recipe for inspiration and swap out ingredients like sugar and butter for things like leadership and determination. Be imaginative and have fun!

How to enter:

- Write your recipe and email to GSGLA Communications Manager Melanie Larsen: mlarsen@girlscoutsla.org by Monday, Feb. 3.
- One winner will be selected. If you win, your recipe will be posted on GSGLA's Facebook page, featured in a GSGLA publication, and you will get the chance to represent GSGLA as a girl reporter during National Girl Scout Cookie Weekend!

Guidelines:

- One recipe entry per girl
- All Girl Scout grade levels welcome to participate.
- Questions? Email mlarsen@girlscoutsla.org.
